As most of the members are old players, they will be making music in a short time.

Quite a number of our young folk had planned to have a picute dinner upon the banks of Rogue river last Sunday, but the day was so cold and windy that only part of them went and they divided, some of them going up to Peter Betz', on Rogue river, and some of them to F. J. Ayres', but they report having had a fine time even if it was a cold day.

In a former article I spoke of the action of the school board in employing the teachers for the next year and yesterday morning I had a talk with F.
